STOCK & SON'S SOIL-PAN SERVICE-BOX.

The object of this contrivance is to facilitate the introduction of sanitary improvements into the dwellings of the working classes by the adoption of such an arrangement of cheap soil pan apparatus as will enable the "constant supply system of water services to be made available for the removal of the refuse, by preventing the enormous waste of water in places of this description, to which water companies have so strongly and properly object. By the use of this service-box an ample supply of water is obtained, without the possibility of its being wasted by propping the valve, weighting the handle, or by other means. It is so constructed that, as long as the diaphragm-valve remains open, a further supply cannot enter the service-box from the main.—Drawings and description may be obtained from STOCK and SON, Manufacturers of Plumbers' Brass work, Sanitary Closets, Rotary Screw-down Taps, Fire Plugs, Gas Fittings, and Church Furniture in iron and brass, Temple-street, Birmingham.

CHEAP, LIGHT, AND DURABLE ROOFING.

CROGGON'S PATENT ASPHALTE ROOFING FELT, has been extensively used and pronounced efficient, and particularly applicable for warm climates.

1st. It is a non-conductor.—2nd. It is portable, being packed in rolls, and not liable to damage in carriage.—3rd. It effects a saving of half the timber usually required.—4th. It can be easily applied by any unprenticed person.—5th. From its lightness, and being only about 25 lbs. to the square of 100 feet, the cost of carriage is small.—6th. Unlike slates, metal, or tiles, it is a most effective non-conductor.

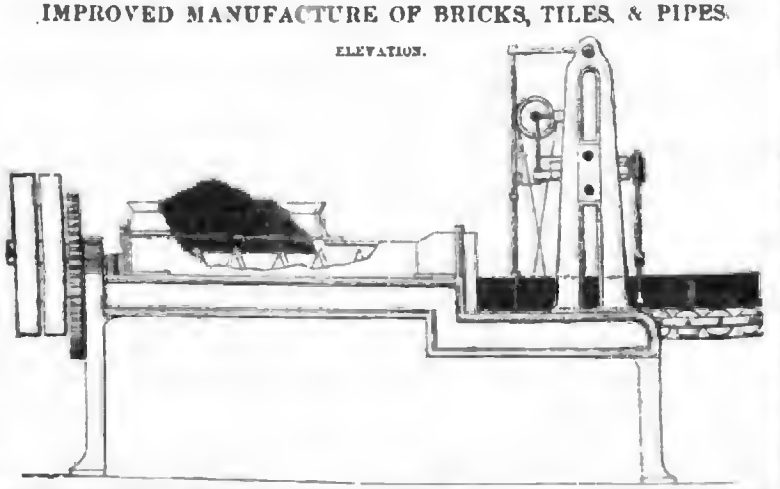
RANDELL AND SAUNDERS'S PATENT MACHINE,

FOR THE

IMPROVED MANUFACTURE OF BRICKS, TILES, & PIPES.

ELEVATION.



In this machine are combined the two objects so long sought in brick machines—a press which forces the clay through a die without variation so long as the clay is supplied to the machine, and a perpetual self-acting cutter, which severs the clay the required length without interfering with its progress.

The clay, in a rough state, is thrown upon the screws by the person employed to fill the machine; the screws, in revolving, thoroughly pug the clay, and also force it forward into a chamber at the other end of the cylinder in which they revolve; from this chamber the clay is allowed to issue through a die, and it is obvious that the stream of clay must take the form of the opening through which it passes, and this opening can be made of the form required to make bricks, tiles, pipes, and other descriptions of ware.

When it is necessary to give the ends of the bricks a corrugated shape, this may be done by attaching a knife to the cylinder of the cutter; this knife revolves with the cylinder, and is made the shape required for the ends of the bricks, which form it imparts to the bricks in cutting them. This arrangement is adapted for making Messrs. RANDELL and SAUNDERS's Patent Dreaming Bricks for sewers purposes, which make a drain of much greater strength than the stoneware or redware pipes, and at far less cost.

The machine is self-acting—the attendants have merely to put in the clay, and remove the bricks, or other ware, which may be produced.

When worked with two-horse power, the machine will produce 1,000 bricks, or 1,500 9-inch pipes, per hour; more power can be applied if desirable, and a larger result obtained.

The screws propel the clay without taking air in with it, thus the ware comes out free from the imperfections which are so often seen in the ware produced by piston presses; and the loss so generally incurred by waste in burning, from the expansion of the air in the ware, is avoided.

The moderate price of this machine, and the simplicity of its construction, place it within the reach of almost every person in the trade, both as to cost and management. It not only lessens the cost of labour required in the process of brick making but, as the bricks can be used in a much drier state than it can be when moulded by the hand, the time occupied in drying is much less, and the bricks are made a material saving is effected in the cost of manufacture and burning. In consequence of the great compression given to the clay in its transit, ware of very superior quality is produced.

For price and further particulars apply to RANDELL and SAUNDERS, Bath, or to CHARLES JOHN CARR and COMPANY, Engineers, Belper, Derby.
